Born in Maseru, the mountainous Kingdom of Lesotho, Bokang Moleli fondly known as Malome Vector to his fans, crossed the border to follow his dream.

The 28yr old young man started his journey in 2004 at the tender age of 14. His affinity for song writing in a book he carried with him everywhere he went was pungent, which saw him performing from a very young age. In pursuit of a bigger stage and one which could catapult him to the world, yet keeping his essence, it was an easy decision to come to South Africa to realise his dreams. One can only marvel at the idea of being head hunted by a record label. He saw this as an easy move when Ambitiouz Entertainment's team recognised his talent and signed him within months of discussions.

The rapper, singer, song writer and producer describes his sound as a combination of Famo (contemporary Sesotho music, which features the accordion and oil can drum) fused with Afro Pop. He strongly believes in his versatile nature and does not want to be boxed to one genre. He draws his inspiration for song writing from everyday life experiences and things that happen in and around him and hopes his fans can be comforted or inspired by his lyrics. He aspires to HHP's music and lyricism as well as his peer Ntate Stunna who he has worked with on other projects to name a few.

THE SOUND

THE INTRO

On 19 June 2020, Malome Vector was officially introduced by Ambitiouz Entertainment with his debut single titled 'Dumelang', a smashing single that still has everyone greeting till today. Dumelang is doing great on all digital platforms, including radio and tv. The single was quickly followed by a music video which is currently on over two million views.

On the 23rd of October 2019, the Lesotho-born rapper released his second single titled 'Follow'. The single received such a great reception, that it occupied the number one spot on iTune's top Hip Hop songs and took the second spot on all genres.

"Malome Vector was introduced to South Africa and the world by fellow stable mate Miss Pru DJ featuring Blaq Diamond on her single Price To Pay, released May 2020."

With Dumelang and Follow still topping the charts, Malome Vector strikes while the iron is still hot, and introduces another smash hit titled 'Nobody', which derives from an old struggle song of the same title. In 'Nobody', Malome Vector sings about a beautiful girl he wants to marry. The single was released on Friday, 29 January 2021 together with a music video that tells a story of a young man who is in love. More is still to come from Malome Vector in 2021.
