Salvation has brought us an angel, Poloko Bagai all the way from Botswana. Sal Angel as known by his fans was born May 17th in Selibe Phikwe and grew up in Francistown. Sal is short for salvation which is the English translation to his name Poloko along with Angel which is the emotional part of his very hardcore self.

BEGINNING OF STARDOM

The self-taught singer, songwriter and producer is no stranger to the music world. He started singing and rapping in school and once he reached tertiary education, he started publishing songs and covers online where he started growing his fanbase. His songs and covers were received warmly and that encouraged him to continue pursuing the craft. He is inspired by seeing the people around him happy and enjoying their life to the fullest which has been the drive behind his passion and motivation.

EXTRAORDINARILY SKILLED VERSION

Musically inspired by the Cassper Nyovest, Sasha Sloan, Ed Sheeran, and Stargate. They are some of the Artist who make music which touches Sal Angel's soul in all the right places. This inspires him to constantly be learning his craft to be an extraordinarily skilled version of himself. Having dreamt to being part of the Ambitiouz Entertainment Team, he was overly excited when he finally received the invitation to join the best record label in the Southern hemisphere.

Even more so because the Team and his dream aligned, which made the decision that much easier. He introduces himself to the world with a soulful, heart strings tugging ensemble; It's Sad I Won't Lie, filled with beautiful melodies and an amazing array of his unique voice. Sal Angel has a lot to offer to the world, with a clear motive of his music being able to transport one to peace, tranquillity, and hope.
